

UNCLE STERLING MORTON is vain of his ability to work the patent insides for the goldites.

The Silver question is warm merchandise for the party on the top-rail of the political fence.

We again call attention to the fact that the Democratic organization in this State is in the hands of its enemies.

GOVERNOR ALTHELD accuses Chauncey Dewey of not knowing which end of a steer the horns belong to. How about the Irish Bull?

Has the representative from Iron been before the committee investigating the matter of railroad passes issued to officials and their friends?

The Republic is filled with direful predictions of what will happen to us if we allow the agitation of the silver question to be continued. These prophecies are given fully as much credit as the statements made by the circulation enumerator of that paper.

BEN DEERING, who has been tearing the rag all over the State and representing himself as a minister, has been denounced by C. H. Briggs, Presiding Elder of Booneville District as being an impostor. Ben will continue to go to Jefferson City every time the Legislature meets, though.—De Soto Facts.

Says the Republic: "Such sophistical compositions as 'Coin's Financial School,' containing some truth and some cunningly devised false conclusions, are ordered in lots of ten thousand for free distribution." Will the Republic please state what cunningly devised false conclusions Coin's Financial School contains? If it can do so, it will confer a favor on the whole people of this great country and get for itself dollars by the bushel.

The total amount of French exports to the United States under the German tariff for the three months past is $10,310,963 as compared with the same time in 1893 under the McKinley tariff which was $10,836,945, an increase of $5,473,318. Think of that workingmen and farmers. Do you wonder at times being hard when such is the case?—De Soto Facts.

What, in the name of all that is comprehensible, do you mean by the "German tariff"? What has the German tariff to do with affairs here, except as it relates to the discredited American hog?

An Open Letter.

IRONTON, Mo., May 1st, 1895.

SENATOR W. R. GOODENOUGH—

Sir: If you will pardon us for rashness, we will briefly refer to ancient history. Many Democrats in this Senatorial District, one year ago, took a lively interest in the struggle for Senatorial honors. Your predecessor was seeking a re-nomination, and you and several others entered the field, seeking the place now held by you. Your predecessor, as was charged, had not mingled with the society at Jefferson City that was calculated to keep him, as Caesar's wife should be, free from suspicion; hence the desire on the part of many to allow him to resume the practice of medicine and repent at leisure. You, as you may remember, were not the choice of this district; but by reason of the inability of the delegates to nominate Organs, and your valuable promises to serve the people and perform the duties of the office faithfully, you were nominated, and by Democratic votes elected. This, briefly, was the situation when you donned the Senatorial toga.

We think we can hear you ask, "Why this sounding index?" We will, in a few terse sentences, answer. The breezes down here in the Ozark hills come to us laden with murmured unrest. In fancy, the zephyrs whisper the names of Bill Phelps, Sam Byrns, Fire-Alarm, Flanagan, and other eminent gentlemen, whose grade in society and statescraft at Jefferson City, is not clearly understood. Sometimes, as we sit and ponder about the situation, some prejudiced and pestilential fellow suggests that you, who, at Steelville, "swore that you were born our soldier"—"swore like thunder on our side,"—bidding us depend upon your strength, your fortune and your shield—had surrendered to the blandishments of corporation rounders. When the suggestions were first uttered, we were indignant and waxed strong in wrath; but the whispers became louder, and even cartoons have reached us, picturing you in the garb of a messenger boy, carrying a message to Bill Phelps! We are becoming desperate, and if this continues, we will be driven to the conclusion that you have laid aside the lion's hide assumed at Steelville, when your voice was lifted aloft in behalf of honesty and political purity. If these reports are true we will say to you—"Thou wear'st lion's hide! Doff it, for shame, and hang a calf's skin on those recalcitrant limbs!" If these rumors are true—if you have concluded no longer to be a "fellow servant" of the people of your district—if you have decided to cast your lot with the "fellow serants" of Bill Phelps—then in conclusion we will remind you as the unfaithful were reminded by the old Romans—the Tarpeian Rock is close to the Capitol!

Gravelton News.

Ed. Register—According to promise we now send in a few items, and will report oftener in the future, as we are not now employed more than 18 hours a day.

We see that certain friends and correspondents are sending in their criticisms of the REGISTER, and tacitly informing you how you ought to conduct your paper. But we rise to remark that if you conduct your paper as you have always run it you will have it just right. For the REGISTER is the ablest paper in the State of Missouri, and it has an editor who knows the difference between chaff and bran by the moonlight.

It seems that some friends out about Sabula have an attack of too much religion. Let me say that a Christian is not commanded by the word of God to keep any dry in preference to any other day. "One man esteemeth one day above another, another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind." Rom., 14:5.

The closing entertainment of Concordia College, last Friday, was a complete success. The weather was perfect. The large audience was orderly, and the music, organ, vocal, and stringed instruments, held the assembly in rapture. Six young men delivered well prepared orations and six young ladies read essays. An exhibition of lip-reading was given at night. Among the visitors we noticed many of the refined and literary from three counties, covering a radius of 20 miles. In the future, Prof. H. A. Hovis, P. D. of Oregon will be connected with this school. Many new pupils are assured already.

We are glad to see that Mr. Hickman, a former pupil of Concordia, is elected commissioner in Iron. Solid worth will show itself.

Mr. Watts, Madison county's genial commissioner, was in attendance last Friday.

Prof. Wagner has bought a fine two horse surrey and harness. ROUSEH.

Clones News.

Ed. Register—Spring, with all that beauty which characterizes that season, is with us again. Farmers out here are pretty nearly all done planting corn. So far as I have observed, the prospect for an excellent crop of wheat is quite good, but the unusually dry weather appears to have had a very bad effect on the meadows.

There is a fair prospect for a large yield of fruit, particularly apples.

The usual court contingent passed by on Sunday last for Ironton.

The "mad-dog scare" out here has become a reality. Among those who have lost stock as a consequence, I note the following: J. M. Latham, a milch cow; H. Latham, a two-year-old steer; C. W. H. Eaton, a steer; and A. H. Eaton, a sheep. Reports are given of various other cases similarly affected, but those given above I know to be a fact.

Not long ago the writer made a trip to Montana, Mo., and while there he took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. George Williamson. After dinner, accompanied by Mr. Williamson, I visited Messrs. Jno. Barger and F. Walker. As usual I found Mr. Barger quite busily engaged with his work, but he found time to chat with us quite pleasantly for a few minutes; after which I made my way to Mr. Jas. P. Barger's, where I was quite pleasantly entertained for a few minutes by Mr. Barger and his most estimable wife, who has the ability to make one feel perfectly at home.

Leaving Mr. Barger's, I found good company as far as food in the person of A. H. Eaton, Esq. Speaking of public spirited persons, it may be truly said that Montana has its share of that class.

An instance at point: Messrs. Jas. P. Barger, Geo. Williamson, F. Walker and Jno. Barger pay the bulk of the tax that supports the school in that district; so anxious are they to have a good school, they have expressed their willingness to go down into their pockets and pay an additional five dollars, if necessary, in order to run a five months' term of school for the ensuing year. The teacher who would not fully exert every effort to help such patrons, by giving them a first-class school, must have given his conscience to the fraternity of lawyers; otherwise, it cannot be claimed that conscience is an innate principle.

Sunday last afternoon your scribe and family visited Mr. and Mrs. A. Hawk. Mrs. H. is still sick, and her condition is fast growing critical.

Mrs. Thomas Gallaher, nee Bell, who had a sudden attack of neuralgia, (that's what the doctor called it), is gradually growing better.

Dr. Joo. A. Adams, Goodland, has been somewhat indisposed for two or three weeks, but I am informed that he is now able to attend to the wants of his patients.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Latham made a trip to Lesterville Sunday last, returning Monday.

J. R. Goggin has removed his family from this point to Clayton's Creek.

Recently John Miller, Goodland, lost both of his horses, a fact we were sorry to hear, for John is an industrious young man, who always strives hard to get along in the world.

Welcomed Him Back.

IRONTON, Mo., April 9, 1895.

A number of persons met in Zion Chapel M. E. Church Friday night to welcome and congratulate Rev. H. A. Henley on his return to the pastorate of said Zion Chapel for another year.

Mr. Henry Boyd was chairman of the meeting; after singing, Mr. Leonard Arnett offered a very appropriate prayer. After prayer the chairman introduced Mr. David Brown, who welcomed the returned minister in behalf of the Official Board and the church. Mrs. L. C. Vaughn represented the Epworth League. Rev. Solomon Lax spoke for the Sunday School, and Prof. D. W. Kenny represented the Public School. The pastor expressed himself as being pleased with the kind words of welcome, offered by the different speakers; acknowledging, at the same time, the obligation under which said kind words placed him. With a promise to do his best to meet the responsibilities of his position—God helping him, in common with the members and friends of the church, the congregation was dismissed.

[The above item should have been published two weeks ago, but it was mislaid.]

St. Charles mourns to-day over the demise of Mrs. Caroline Paul, the widow of John Paul, deceased, an old and respected citizen. Mrs. Paul was the mother of a large family and was a good, gentle Christian lady who was filled with goodness and kindness.

The venerable lady passed from earthly cares and pains to her well merited reward on Monday, at 4:40 o'clock, at the good old age of 74 years. Her death took place at her home on Second and Tompkins street. Mrs. Paul leaves nine children, Edward, August, Charles, Henrietta, of St. Charles; Frank, John and Emily who reside in St. Louis and William and Mrs. S. H. Gosney of Arcadia, Mo. Mrs. Paul although feeling for some time the usual infirmities of age was not taken alarmingly ill until last Wednesday. Her last moments were confronted by the presence of all her children. Thus went out the life of a noble woman, a good mother and a pioneer lady whom all honored. The funeral will take place, this morning, at nine o'clock, from the late home of deceased to the German Catholic church. The interment will be in the English Catholic cemetery.—St. Charles Cosmos.

A precious one has left us,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our midst,
Which never can be filled.

God in his wisdom has recalled
The boon his love bestows;
Altho' the body moulders here,
Her soul is safe in heaven.

MYRTLE.

Any one who has ever had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism will rejoice with Mr. J. A. Stumm, 220 Boyle Heights, Los Angeles, over his fortunate escape from a siege of that distressing ailment. Mr. Stumm is foreman of Merriam's confectionery establishment. Some months ago, on leaving the heated work room to run across the street on an errand, he was caught out in the rain. The result was that when ready to go home that night he was unable to walk, owing to inflammatory rheumatism. He was taken home, and on arrival was placed in front of a good fire and thoroughly rubbed with Chamberlain's Pain Balm. During the evening and night he was repeatedly bathed with this liniment, and by morning was relieved of all rheumatic pains. He now takes especial pleasure in praising Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. For sale by all dealers.
